

New Technology Block - Severn Vale School, Gloucester

Client –	GCC
Main Contractor –	Eg Carter
Architect –	Quattro
Services Value -	£750,000

A modern and spacious design was the client brief for the new technology block for Severn Vale School.

As a technology college clearly the facilities and aesthetics of the new building were key to the success of the project. Axiom Building Services in association with main contractor and the client provided an installation which was clearly viable to the students to create a commercial feel to the building. This included electrical distribution, heating and ventilation all on display rather than concealed above ceilings and within the fabric of the building which required exceptional coordination and accuracy to maintain the feel and symmetry of the building.
